An Unprecedented Number of Deaths in Jersey City and New York

KEEPS THE UNDERTAKERS BUSY.

One Hospital Reports Its List of Patients Doubled in Four Days.

NUMEROUS PATAL CASES OF GRIP.

The Disease Spreading Abroad and Royal Sufferer in Danger,

There was a scarcity of hearses in New York, Brooklyn, and Jersey City yesterday. Undertakers say the death rate is unprece-the hospital since December 28. In the first four days of this month 253 patients were admitted, while in the same period in 1889 only 175 were received. The excess this year is attributed to the grip. Dr. Paul Hoffmann, Assistant Superintendent of public schools, who was taken to the hospital wildly delirious yesterday, was much improved to-day.

He was visited by a number of friends. Dr. Douglass thinks he will surely recover.

THE PATIENT A PRISONER. Dr. Hoffmann was down on the West Thirtieth street police returns, sent to Jeffer-son Market Court to-day, as a prisoner, for violation of the corporation ordinance in earrying a pistol without a permit. Justice Hogan discharged him. Frank Bangs, the well-known actor, is confined to his bed at the Sturtevant House by a cold, and his doctor is laboring to prevent it from developing into the grip. The actor caught the cold on Wednesday night, and it got worse so rapidly that he was obliged to give up his business entirely, The Rev. Dr. John Hall continues to improve. Miss Charlotte Fiske Bates, the author, who lies in St. Vincent's Hospital, critically ill of pneumonia, was reported to-night to be resting easier and in no immediate danger. Michael J. ADVICE TO WORKINGMEN.

Rev. Donchoe on New Year Admonitions-Employers Have the Same Rights as Employes-No Clubs Wanted.

Rev. E. R. Donehoo, pastor of the Eighth Presbyterian Church, yesterday preached on the "New Year Encouragements and Ad-monitions." He took for his text: "That which hath been is now; and that which is to be hath already been; and God requireth that which is past."-Ecc. iii.:15.

Referring to the year that has gone, the reverend gentleman exhorted his hearers to take account of the mile stones which marked its flight. He said:

Nothing can be more prolific of comfort that the words of this text as we strain our eyes out-ward over the dark waters of life, which stretch away until they are buried in the mists which rest upon their bosom. It is assuring to know that we have already survived as sore dangers as any which threaten us in the womb of the future. A God of love holds the destinies of Vork, Brooklyn, and Jersey City pesterday. Undertakers say the death rate is unprecedented in the latter city. This they attribute to the grip. The epidemic continues to rage, both abroad and at home.

GREEN BOTTLE BLOWERS' STRIKE.

Indications That It Will Soon Close-Ald Being Forwarded-Both Districts May Amalgamate With the A. F. G. W. U.

There are indications that the strike mong the Eastern green glass bottle blowers will be soon brought to a close, and in favor of the men. The difficulty has been continued for about 14 weeks, and that the Eastern workers have so well maintained their stand, is due largely to the liberal support accorded them by their fellow craftsmen in this section, and the supplementary aid sent them by the American Flint Glass Workers' Union. The latter organization, when the strike was initiated, came forward and guaranteed to furnish $17,000 in support of the strikers, and it has been forwarding $1,000 per week for some time past. The local bottle blowers assessed themselves very heavily with the same object, and L. A. 6111, with membership of not more than 250, has sent $500 weekly since the trouble began. The strike, it will be remembered, is not

of Their Plant. Park Brothers, of the Black Dismond Steel Works, have erected two immense enza, had a bad night, being unable to Seymour heating furnaces in their big plate open hearth plant. The furnaces are exceptionally large. They will be able to heat 36 ingots, 10x24 inches, weighing 2,500 pounds each. This will enable the rollers to do much more work in the future than they have in the past.

Hitherto a great deal of time was lost by waiting until the ingots were ready for rolling. By using the new furnaces almost twice the number of sheets can be rolled. This is just what the firm want, because they have now a large number of orders on hand and they are seriously pressed for time. Trade in the manufactured steel business is having a boom. The steel mills along Penn avenue are running full and both turns are making good outputs.

The Owners Get $37,400 for Their Loss on House and Contents.

WHAT THEY WILL DO WITH THE HOTEL

Reopened for Business. The owners of the Monongahela House have settled with the insurance companies and will now begin the work of remodeling

The carpets all over the house will be replaced. The ceilings will be replactered, and iron ceilings will be placed in a majority of the rooms. It will be entirely refurnished and refitted, and old habitues of the place will not think of it as the Monongahela House of old, and in memory only will the Monongahela of former days exist. In an interview with Charles J. Clarke, one of the owners of the property last night, he said they would spare no pains or expense to make it one of the most complete, as well as one of the safest, hotels in the country. He said: "After ten days of hard work we have at last succeeded in adjusting matters with the insurance companies. The amount of damage to building and furniture has been fixed at $37,400. Having further effected a release from the lessees we are now entirely ambered and prepared to go ahead.

WHAT THEY WILL DO. "We will build the elevator walls of brick with fire-proof doors. Had this been done in the first place the fire would never have assumed the proportions it did. As it is, brick walls divided each room, and it was only after the ceiling of each apartment had been burned and everything in it consumed that the flames found access to the adjoining rooms. Any modern house would unquestionably have been destroyed in a very brief time. The law provides that in on a question of wages, but is concerned the construction of hotels, suitable fire escapes shall be provided, and further requires that a rope shall be arranged in each room, attempted to employ more boys than were facing on a street or alley, as an additional specified under the scale and the workers safeguard. The rope is made fast to a chain struck in consequence. Subsequently the 12 feet long, firmly fixed above the window. "It is a source of gratification to me that this law had been rigidly carried out at the union men and boys, but when they found this law had been rigidly carried out at the their business going westward they began to give way, and at present there are very mentality of these ropes several lives were saved. A great part of the furniture has been to a greater or less extent injured, and There are many of the rooms in which the furniture has not been injured, while many others will require a complete filling anew. The entire house will be newly plastered from top to bottom, and nothing will be left undone to restore the old Monongahela to its former state of comfort and elegance." IN THE EIGHTH PLACE.

TO BEGIN IT TO-DAY Brunet's Island May Be Put to Other Uses-The Operations of English Capital Viewed

A DISPATCH reporter yesterday called upon Mr. James Hemphill, one of the syndicate who purchased Brunot's Island, to ascertain, if possible, their plans in regard to it. Mr. Hemphill spoke very freely. He

"As yet we have come to no positive conclusion in the matter. It is a most eligible location for any plant which we may decide to establish. The fact that a majority of the present owners are iron manufacturers led to the belief that a blast furnace would be erected there. This is not contemplated. We have many mills in operation, and they, for the present at least, will suffice. As far as any definite or fixed plan of action is concerned, there is none; that is, nothing looking to any immediate movement.

"We were negotiating for the island 18 months ago, but failed to accomplish the purchase. Three months since the negotiations were reopened, and after the major part of the intervening time had been taken part of the intervening time had been taken up in hunting the heirs, the purchase was formally consummated yesterday. We shall employ a civil engineer, who will consider the matter of the best means for the protection of the island at the north end." The reporter asked Mr. Hemphill for his opinion in regard to the recent heavy and varied purchases made in different sections of the country by English syndicates. He

It will probably be six or eight months before the house is again opened to the traveling nyblic and in the meantime it will be recommended as only in its infancy. "The reason, if only one be cited, is ob-We derive nothing from the profits of these mammoth concerns; on the con-trary, the stockholders are all English, you know, and back to their hands goes the money. Take, for instance, Mr. Carnegie. Suppose his extensive works and the immense income which they have yielded for years had been handled by foreign capitalists without any identity with this country or interest therein beyond the mere successful prosecution of their business enterprises; millions and millions of dollars would have been diverted which to-day push along some valuable home industry, and our country is the beneficiary thereof. I do not believe in being selfish, but it is well to watch sealously our own interests and guard with jealous eye encroachments which bode danger."
